If you toot your little tooter and then lay aside your horn, there's not a soul in 10 short days will know that you are born. The man who gathers pumpkins is the man who plows all day, and the man who keeps a humping is the man who makes it pay. The man who advertises with a short and sudden jerk is the man who blames the editor because it didn't work. The man who gets the business has a strong and steady pull and keeps the local paper from year to year quite full. He plans his advertisement in a thoughtful, honest way, and keeps forever at it until he makes it pay. He has faith in all the future, can withstand a sudden shock, and like the man of Scripture, has his business on a rock.—Exchange.

SIX PAGES.

THE republican leaders, who say they will nominate Taylor for governor again, if the supreme court decides against his claims, take a little too much for granted. He may be in hades by that time, having gone there by the hempen route, or a merciful jury may have let him off with a life sentence in the penitentiary. At any rate he gets what apparently is his due for his alleged participation in the most dastardly crime of the century, he will cease from troubling and subsequent political events interest him no more. Should justice, however, fail to do its perfect work, and Taylor be permitted to longer encumber the earth, his nomination for the office he has disgraced and degraded, would be the signal for such an uprising of the honest people of the State, as would sweep him and his party of usurpation and assassination almost from the face of the earth. His course since he was permitted to take the oath of governor has been absolutely indefensible from any standpoint and since he had Goebel assassinated, it has been criminal in the extreme. Even if he were not guilty of a conspiracy to kill Gov. Goebel, his attempt to take advantage of the assassination by preventing the Legislature from meeting, with a coronation of bayonets, his protection of the assassin, his pardons to suspects, whom he tried to spirit away, disguised and under military escort, his disregard of the writ of habeas corpus and the filling of the capital with partisan soldiers and feudists, would damn him here and hereafter and make him the easiest kind of a snap for the democrat. The party of fraud and force is on the wane in Kentucky anyway and the attempt to carry such a weight will sink it beyond hope of rising again.

HON. G. G. GILBERT is announced in this issue, by authority, for re-election to Congress, subject to any regular action the party may take. It is the custom of the party to endorse its faithful servants by a renomination and Mr. Gilbert is eminently entitled to have the rule applied in his case. He has been watchful of the interests of his constituents and has taken rank already with the leaders in Congress. His speech against the Porto Rican bill, recently made before the body, was a superior effort and gave him further prestige in the body, which already held him in high estimation. He should be given a renomination without opposition and then the party will see to it that he is re-elected by an increased majority, no matter whom the republicans put up.

THE Republican State Central Committee changed the date of the State convention to May 17, at Louisville, to name delegates to the Philadelphia National convention and for the transaction of such "other business" as may be brought before it. Every body who believes in civil liberty is requested to participate. The basis of representation is a delegate for every 100 votes cast for McKinley, and one for each fraction over 50, which gives Lincoln county 18. Taylor was the lion of the hour at the Louisville meeting, which shows how the republican leaders sympathize with assassins and assassination.

PECK'S SUN, of Milwaukee, edited by Gov. Peck, author of Peck's Bad Boy, has gone into eternal eclipse. The governor in taking his conge says that the cheapness and completeness of the daily paper and the low price of magazines has left no place for the slow going weekly and his slaughter of the Sun is to keep it from dying a natural death and by degrees, that all other weeklies are destined to do. We can see where the astute governor is right, and appreciate his analogy since he does not include the semi-weekly in his list of the doomed.

THE Gatling gun has been removed from the first floor of the executive building at Frankfort to the second floor in the office of John Burke, the republican ex-superintendent of public instruction. This is done probably on the presumption that Burke having been engaged in teaching the young idea how to shoot, knows how himself, and will be made to prove it.

THE Louisville Commercial, in naming republican candidates for Congress in the Kentucky districts, omits any mention of the 8th. Perhaps this means that they are going to let it go by default. It will go against them any way and the failure to nominate a candidate will save them much worry and useless expense.

THE tobacco and sugar trusts are responsible for the passage of the iniquitous Porto Rican tariff bill. Trusts control legislation under republican administrations and own the president, body and soul. Elect Bryan this fall and the masses instead of the classes will have a show.

TAYLOR says he was neither directly nor indirectly connected with the assassination of Gov. Goebel and goes on to protest against the persecution as he calls it, that he is subjected to. The old scamp protests too much. The circumstances, the motive and the corroborating evidence not only connects but make him directly responsible for the death of his enemy.

THE assassination papers are making much ado over the alleged fact that John G. Carlisle and Benjamin Harrison both say that a Federal question is involved in the Kentucky governor case. Even if they have expressed such opinion, which is doubtful, that doesn't make it so. Ten thousand as good lawyers think otherwise.

THE rads are talking of running Gov. Bradley for Congress in the 5th district. They should remember the fate of poor old John Young Brown, who also ran there while a non-resident and not subject the ex-governor to unnecessary defeat and mortification.

THE Williamsburg Times presents no proof that some of the assassination conspirators are not bastards as well as dastards. So we will have to maintain our original proposition that they are. Let the apologist of such cattle put up or shut up.

THE Bardstown Observer, making four papers in Nelson county, has made its appearance. It is edited by J. S. Wilson, a six-column quarto, strictly democratic and the first issue shows that its promoters know how to get up a newspaper.

REPUBLICAN claimants to minor State offices refused to sign the agreement to advance the cases in court, after making the proposition. It is high time a stop was put to parleying with the infernal scoundrels.

GEN. MILES, likewise would like a nomination for president, but like Dewey he is likely to take it out in liking. This is a year for practical and not for sentimental politics.

THE LATEST.

LOUISVILLE, April 13, 9 A. M.—A Barboursville story says that while republicans will nominate Taylor for governor, he is booked for a foreign job under McKinley.

The president signs the Porto Rican bill and appoints Assistant Secretary of the Navy, Allen, governor. C. D.

About Conspirators and Assassins.

The Frankfort grand jury is working on the assassination cases, but no news is given out since Judge Cantrill's little lecture. Indictments are expected tomorrow.

William Brewer, of Nelson county, sent to Gov. Beckham a load of walnut lumber with instructions to use it to construct a coffin for the assassin of Gov. Goebel.

We can conceive of no ground upon which the supreme court of the United States can undertake to review the decision of the supreme court of Kentucky. —Richmond, Va., Times.

The American press, regardless of politics, endorse the triumph of law and order in Kentucky and unite in the assertion that there is no ground for Federal interference in purely State affairs.

Too many grand jury secrets were leaking and Judge Cantrill warned jurors, witnesses and reporters that they would be held for contempt if it was hereafter shown that his order was disregarded.

Jim Howard claims that his train was late and he got into Frankfort after Goebel was shot, but the record shows that no matter which train he was on, it got in in plenty of time for the assassination.

City Attorney Tremere, of Frankfort, in an open letter to Gen. Collier accuses him of refusing to allow civil officers to go within the lines to arrest those responsible for the attack on the police last Saturday night, when a drunken soldier under arrest, was rescued by a superior force.

The Washington Times says that there is not a lawyer at the Capital, who does not know that the scheme of the Taylorites to carry their case to the United States supreme court must be without hope of success and without honest purpose. If the Kentucky State government is under any obligation to leave the defeated contestant and his banditti in control of the executive building at Frankfort, pending an appeal useless and insincere on its face, the fact is to be regretted, because, appeal can have no other object than that of delay and delay in the interest of a conspiracy to affect the status of the Commonwealth and its legal voters at the coming presidential election. There is not room for the smallest doubt that the supreme court will affirm the decision of the Kentucky court of appeals, if or when the opportunity is presented.

Mrs. Jack Adams, of Garrard, has a hen that never lays on Sundays.

The oldest house in Bryantsville, and owned by Mrs. Margaret Folger, burned the other day.

When Carpenter's Dignity Dare was shown at Liberty a lady was heard to remark: "I never saw anything lovelier than Doc Drye on that horse."

POLITICIANS AND POLITICS.

Leslie Combs is trying for the republican nomination for governor.

The Porto Rican tariff bill passed the House as it came from the Senate, 159 to 151.

It took 401 ballots to nominate a republican candidate for Congress at Marysville, O.

The Senate passed a bill to appropriate $3,000,000 to lay a cable from San Francisco to Honolulu.

Col. John R. Allen has announced for Congress in the 7th and the race promises to be a free-for-all.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. E. Rowe was acquitted at Owensboro of the charge of intoxication and neglect of duty.

Admiral Dewey is coming to Louisville for a two days' stay in May and he will also visit Frankfort and Lexington.

Kansas City says she will have the hall ready in time and the National committee has decided to let her retain the National convention.

Bill Owens, who has removed to Louisville, says he is out of politics. Louisville is a better field for the practice of his profession than Georgetown.

By a unanimous vote the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections decided to report the seat of Millionaire Clark, of Montana, vacant. Clark is the man who bought his seat and got caught at it.

The women of Lexington and Fayette county have issued a call for a mass meeting at the opera house, next Tuesday April 17, in the interest of good citizenship. They had better stay at home and attend to the babies.

"I shall say nothing now nor at any other time regarding Dewey's candidacy. Dewey is a man who can not stand criticism gracefully, and as such I pity him, for he may get lots of it before the summer is over."—Bryan.

The supreme court decides in the case of Collector Comingore that a U. S. officer is not bound to exhibit the records of his office to support a prosecution by the State against a whiskey firm for failure to pay taxes on whiskey.

This from the Glasgow Times is pretty rough on Tallow Dick: The most villainous paper in the State is the Louisville Post. The Dispatch does the worst it knows how, but a glibbering idiot is never the equal of a cold-blooded scoundrel.

The Tennessee republicans are so split up they can hold no convention without breaking up—in a row. The Congressional convention at Murfreesboro resulted in a split, two candidates for Congress being nominated and two sets of delegates elected to the National convention.

The resolutions of the Ohio confederation of democratic clubs reaffirm the Chicago platform, denounce imperialism, the Porto Rican tariff, trusts and railroad combinations; express sympathy for the Boers and demand a solid delegation from Ohio for William Jennings Bryan.

Mr. Watterson, who was the first to suggest Dewey for the presidency, now remarks: As the Courier Journal was saying, when interrupted by the side remark of Admiral Dewey, there is no movement anywhere to oppose the nomination of Mr. Bryan by the Kansas City convention. The nomination will be made unanimously, if not by acclamation. This has long been a foregone conclusion. In precisely the same way will Mr. McKinley be renominated by the Philadelphia convention.

In Franklin county, Bud LeCompte, shot and killed Hiram Stafford, his brother-in-law, who was ill and confined to his bed, merely to end the latter's troubles, he says.

The referee says that E. B. Nugent, the bankrupt Louisville merchant, is shamming insanity and the court has ordered him to pay to it $14,000 at once. W. P. Nugent, a son, is said to have the money.

A monster school boys' pro-Boer rally was held in New York and a message of sympathy and greeting was adopted and sent to Kruger by a 16-year-old boy, who sailed from New York Wednesday.

It is reported from Boer sources that the British have met with further severe reverses in South Africa. One report is that in a battle fought near Brandfont, in the Free State, the loss was 600 British killed and wounded, and 900 captured. The Boer loss was nominal.

Read in another column the pedigree of Red Squirrel, Jr., one of the best sons of grand old Red Squirrel. Beazley Bros. are standing him at their stable at the low price of $10 to insure.

J. K. Baughman has fewer jacks on his good big farm near Hustonville than for many years. Since his big sale the other day only two are left to "bray" the tale. They are the best of the lot, he says, as he never sells the best ones.

An Oregon judge has decided that when a man gives a mortgage on his sheep, he can sell the wool off of them and appropriate the money to his own use, the term "increase" used in the mortgage applying only to the young the animals may bear.

At a sale of Aberdeen Angus, by Wallace Estill, Chicago, 58 females sold for an average of $583.50; 14 bulls sold at an average of $561.80. Ten Shorthorn bulls averaged $252.50. Fifty-nine Hereford bulls averaged $229.05; 40 females, $303.50; the 99 averaging $259.15.

A Western man has patented a ring for the noses of cattle which will not injure the flesh and needs no cutting to insert it, the ring being in two parts, with pivot pins on one side which prevent the opposite ends from entirely closing, leaving room between the ends for the wall between the nostrils.

English Hunter has sired some of the best sellers in the country, among them the E. H. Beazley mare that sold for $215, the Bowen Gover gelding, that brought $205 and the Theo Powell mare, considered by good judges to be the fanciest combined mare in the county. His colts all have good size and are well gaited. See ad.

Philosophy.

The sign is bad when folks commence
A finding fault with Providence,
And balking cause the earth don't shake
At every prancing step they take.
No man is great till he can see How less than little he can be
If stripped to self, and stark and bare
He hung his sign out anywhere.
My doctrine is to lay aside
Contentions and be satisfied;
Jest do your best, and praise or blame
That follows, that counts jest the same.
I've allus noticed great success
Is mixed with troubles more or less,
And it is the man who does the best
That gets more kicks than all the rest.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

Y's.

These little verses are suggested as a declaration that each self-respecting young woman should make:
On one vital point we will take a firm stand

If a man chews or drinks he will forfeit our hand;

Our hearts and our homes we intend to keep pure

From sin's evil ways our companions to lure.

How best can the work of our "Y"
Branch be done,

Not in dreaming, delaying, or socials of fun;

By each member meeting the solemn demand,

For God and for temperance to take a firm stand.

In Washing Dishes

Have two sets of dish-towels and dish-cloths. We make one set of the dish-cloths of white and used them only for washing earthen and silverware. We have others of unbleached towel or any suitable material not white, for washing tinware, cooking-spoons, steel knives and forks used on the work table, and for washing the table or sink when through. In this way the dish-cloths keep clean longer, and come much whiter out of the laundry. We make dish-towels (or wipers) from calico aprons or dresses that are partly worn out, for wiping tinware and kitchen utensils. These being soft and dark, are easily washed and quickly dried, if the supply be limited.

There is a very little fixed dirt that can not be removed with salt and vinegar.

Articles scorched in the ironing should be laid in hot sunshine. This will remove a scorch that is not very bad.

Coffee and tea are rendered much more fragrant if made hot (not burnt at all) before water is poured on them.

Silk dresses should never be brushed, but should be carefully rubbed with an old piece of velvet kept for that purpose.

Honey should be kept in the dark or it will granulate.

To prevent kerosene lamps from smelling put a tablespoonful of salt into the oil.

To keep lamp burners clean they should occasionally be boiled in a strong solution of soda.

Old whalebones will regain much of their life if soaked in hot water and pulled into shape again.

When washing jelly-bags do not use soap, but plunge them into water as hot as the hands can bear, and wring as dry as possible.

Dish-towels and glass-linen should be scalded each day, and thoroughly washed and ironed each week, and dried in the open air.

Lemon and orange peel grated mixed with sugar, and made into a paste with their own juice, are excellent for flavoring cakes and puddings. If put into a small jar the paste will keep for months.

If there is any fear that a bed not usually slept in is damp, put a bright looking-glass between the sheets and cover it up. In a few minutes examine it. If its surface is dimmed there is cause for uneasiness. If a bright looking-glass is not at hand, a tumbler warmed and turned upside down will answer the same purpose.

One of the topics arranged for discussion by an Ohio farmers' club is sanitation on the farm, including the water supply, heating the dwelling, drains and cellars, importance of sunlight and pure air, and the care and location of barnyards and feed lots. A discussion of such objects might well be considered by most farmers' institutes. Much of our sanitation instruction is given solely from the standpoint of the town sanitarian, who can discuss improved plumbing, the arrangements and trapping of waste pipes, and the proper fixtures of the bathroom, but who would find himself entirely at a loss in advising the sanitary disposal of farm wastes. Rural sanitation is a science of itself, and one to which farm organizations are now giving needed attention. Many of the winter epidemics, which bring suffering and death to country communities, are preventable, and will be prevented when sanitary laws are more fully understood.

A few days a Philadelphia discovered $15,000 in bank notes wrapped in tinfoil and stout paper which had been concealed in an old mansion for 35 or 40 years. It was in a beam in the house, which had been destroyed and the wood sold for kindling. The finder brought some of the rubbish, and, when cutting the kindling, the wealth came to sight. After counting the entire lot and finding the amount so large, he called in an intimate friend, but this one blasted all his hopes by stating that the entire lot was not worth a cent, the issues being of old state banks, now out of existence. The finder said that he supposed the money was deposited in the hiding place during the early days of the rebellion by a brewer who lived in the mansion at the time.

Report says that Mrs. Leland Stanford has absolutely disposed of every penny of the enormous fortune left by her husband, the late Senator Stanford. She recently signed the last of the deeds that transferred to the Leland Stanford university every acre of land that her husband had owned, as well as all her personal estate, which included over 30 million dollars in stocks and bonds. So, as to the actual ownership of property, she is destitute to-day, but the trustees of the university have bound themselves to pay her $25,000 a year, which she uses for her personal wants.

It is reported that 300 women in Trenton, N. J., paid $1 each to a glib canvasser who rented rooms in a central office, employed several clerks and agreed to give a $10 silk petticoat to every woman who would pay $1 and induce ten of her acquaintances to invest the same amount for a similar garment. Two or three petticoats were given out, an "unavoidable delay" occurred, and one morning the operator was found to have left town without leaving his address.

T. Carson, the mayor of Brownsville, Tex., is known in that part of the country as the "perpetual mayor." He has held the office for 21 years, and he cannot get out of it. He has declined renomination time and again and threatened to resign if elected, but the people have nominated and elected him in spite of it. He was the first mayor elected in Texas under the new constitution of 1879, and before that he had been an alderman for a number of years.

A Tonawanda (Pa.) bank employed ingenious means to stop a recent run on the institution. While several hundred depositors were in line to withdraw their money, three barrels of silver dollars were unloaded in front of the building and carried in by the basketful. The sight of $75,000 being dumped into the bank in this wholesale manner had a reassuring effect, and the run ceased.

Nettie Dickey, a young girl of Stanton, Del., lately returned to her home, after leading the life of a tramp for several years. During that time she chopped wood for a living, slept in empty box cars, and lived in cheap lodging houses. She visited the principal cities in the United States and is now willing to abandon her roving life and settle in Stanton.

Left-handed parties are a fad in New York. Guests are requested to come with their right hand securely bound up. They must register their names, play the piano, make all gestures and eat with the assistance of the left hand.

"In nine cases out of ten," says a writer in the Washington Post, "the beauty hints in the newspapers are prepared by homely women." This is a mistake. Fully half of them are prepared by big men with bushy whiskers.

The city of Akron, O., is entitled to the credit for installing the first automobile police patrol. It is of the large-est size, having a seating capacity of 20 persons, and was built at a cost of $2,200.

It is said there are in Havana more beautiful horses and elegant carriages than in any city of equal size in the United States.

If you were to go to Mississippi do not rashly offer a reward for the saving of your wife's life, unless you expect to pay it. So a court has ruled. It seems that a woman fell into a raging torrent there, while her husband, unable to swim, stood on the bank and did the properly terror-stricken act, while listening to the woman's cries. Just then a neighbor rushed up, and the potential widower, waving his hand to his horses and carriages near by, cried: "I'll give you those if you save her." The neighbor did save her, at the risk of his own life. Then he claimed his reward. But the husband was busy scolding his wife and repaid vain things. Suit was brought. The husband said he offered the horses and wagon while laboring under temporary excitement, and added that the property recovered was not worth the amount of the reward. The jury, however, found for the plaintiff, holding that when one offers something for the saving of a life one is liable for the amount offered, if it is earned according to the terms of the offer. They did not consider that it required an excessive degree of excitement to propose such a reward. So, a husband's opinion to the contrary, a Mississippi wife is worth two horses and a wagon.

So fierce is the battle of competition, so strong the spirit of trade, that it is commonly believed that when a business house is burned out or meets with other disasters, rival firms are ready to mount the ruins and gloat over the extra grist brought to their own mills.
But, as a matter of fact, says the Chicago Tribune, there is among merchants a good deal of that same kind of fraternal feeling that, in the days when people lived in houses and had back fences of their own, caused a sympathetic neighbor to fix up the gaps made by hastily departing servants with a welcome pie handed over the fence. And so when a business house has been the victim of a fire neighborly opponents come forth with friendly offers of assistance which are usually accepted in the same spirit in which they are given. Business is business, of course, but there are times when business is more than business.

A Kansas exchange prints this story:
"It is told of a certain plutocrat in Beloit that in order to save himself from inconvenience when he had his house remodeled he included an automatic bathtub. The tub was so arranged that he could lie in bed and by pulling a button the tub would glide from the next room to the side of the bed, and then all he would have to do was to roll over in the tub and take his morning bath. The other day he was showing a party of gentlemen over the house, and when he came to the room he said: 'Let me show you my automatic bathtub.' There was a scream, and the tub came sailing into the room with his wife in it. She now takes her bath in a wash pan."

This is a great country. Last year the crop of wheat was 547,303,846 bushels; corn, 2,078,143,933 bushels; oats, 796,177,713 bushels; barley, 73-381,563 bushels; rye, 23,961,741 bushels; buckwheat, 11,094,473 bushels; potatoes, 228,783,232 bushels; hay, 36,653-756 tons. The average farm prices reported were: Wheat, 53.4 cents; corn, 30.3 cents; oats, 24.9 cents. These figures do not break the record, but they are in the front rank. Meanwhile, the manufacturing capacity is enormous. No country has such a railway system, such furnace outputs, such huge shops and mills, while in trade the vast combinations and trusts are equally colossal.

A curious lawsuit is in progress at Kansas City, Kan., brought by S. K.
Howe against the Armour Packing company to recover 14 acres of river front occupied by packing houses. The old man, says an exchange of the city, tells a veritable Robinson Crusoe story. Many years ago he took up his abode on a little island in the Missouri river, living in a hut with a dog and a few fowls for his only companions. He was lord of the domain, and no one questioned the fact.
Finally the stream changed its course, and what was an island became valuable river front, and the Armour company forced him off.

A certain congressman has received the following suggestion: "Would it not be well for the United States government to prohibit the exportation of mules until our supply has caught up with the demand? The country is now being depleted of its mules, and should any serious trouble occur with any of the European nations our means of transportation would be seriously hampered."

In 1840 Harriet Martineau visited the United States and reported seven occupations only open to women—teaching, needlework, keeping boarders, bookkeeping and household service.
Now there are about 400 occupations in which women are employed.

A good deal more is heard nowadays about Missouri mines than about Missouri hogs, but it is stated upon good authority that the hogs bring in five times as much each year as all the mining products combined.

Bay Stallion sired by Mambrino Legend, 97, by Highland Chief.

1st Dam by "Son" of Peter's Halcorn.

2d Dam by Downing's Bay Messenger.

Belle, the dam of Preston, was a great show mare. Preston first attracted the attention of the public by winning the first premium at the Lexington Fair, and afterwards at Richmond, winning the rich purse of $1,000 for the best combined stallion in the State, and afterward at the great St.
Louis Fair, where he won first prize over the best horses in the United States, also at Kansas City, where he again defeated the best horses, all sexes, in a Sweepstake Exhibition. The above is a great showing after winning all of the first prizes in Kentucky. Preston will make the season at $15 to insure. Lien retained on all colts until season is paid. Call on or address

Will Stand at $10 to Insure a Living Colt.

NOTE.—Ogdenburg is an extremely handsome stallion with all the form, finish and style of his famous family. With the exception of Mambrino King, he is undoubtedly the handsomest son of Mambrino Patchen.
He is a sure and very fine breeder and marks his get with great uniformity as regards finish, style good looks and pure gait.
He has a good disposition, anyone can handle and drive him. He is one of the purest gaited horses in the world and is capable of trotting much faster than his record. He has his speed with him always and is an easy horse to get in condition. He has trotted miles in 2:22 and quarters in 33 seconds. All the training he ever had in his life would not amount to six months.
He obtained his record when a four-year-old over a muddy track at New Albany, Ind., hitherto an old fashioned, high wheeled sulky against a field of aged horses.
He won the race in three straight heats. He is very level-headed, afraid of nothing.
He is a show horse as well as a trotter. Has been shown at some of the best fairs in Kentucky and Indiana and has won a number of premiums. (Has won a number of sweepstake premiums.)

Will Also Stand A Jack at $3 To Insure.

OUR GLORIOUS COUNTRY.

Have you watched its marvelous growth? If not, The Weekly Enquirer wants to study the strides it has made. The first census of the United States was taken in 1790. Since then every succeeding ten years. The result has been as follows:

Year.	Population.	Year.	Population.
1790.....	3,929,214	1880.....	50,155,783
1800.....	5,308,014	1890.....	62,922,250
1810.....	7,239,881
1820.....	9,633,822
1830.....	12,866,023
1840.....	17,069,053
1850.....	23,191,876

Here you have the figures of a basis of calculation. The problem now is: What will be the population of the United States, excluding recent acquisitions. The result is usually announced in July of the census year. The WEEKLY ENQUIRER is anxious to engage all in a study of their country. To this end it will distribute cash amounting to $25,000, for solutions received of the population of the United States Census, as follows:

To the first nearest correct guess received.	$3,000.00
To the second.....	1,500.00
To the third.....	750.00
To the fourth.....	500.00
To the fifth.....	250.00
To the sixth.....	200.00
To the seventh.....	150.00
To the next 10, each $100, amounting to.	1,000.00
To the next 50, each $50, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 100, each $25, amounting to.	2,500.00
To the next 500, each $10, amounting to.	5,000.00
To the next 1,530, each $5, amounting to.	7,650.00

2197 cash presents amounting to $25,000.00

In case of a tie, money equally divided.

Every guess on the above proposition must be accompanied by a year's subscription to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

You can guess as often as you care to inclose subscription price to the WEEKLY ENQUIRER.

This contest will close a month before the result of the census will be known and officially certified by the Director of the United States Census at Washington, D. C.

Subscription price for the WEEKLY ENQUIRER (including guess) is only $1.00 a year. Eleven copies and eleven guesses for $10.00. For full particulars see WEEKLY ENQUIRER. Send all orders to ENQUIRER CO., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Only Apparently Contradictory.
It sounded contradictory, but after all unquestionably there are occasions when one can "give away" and "sell" at the same time.

"She told me," said her dearest friend, "that she never would marry for money, but don't you think she gave herself away when she sold herself to old Bullion?"

And the dearest friend's friend thought she did.—Chicago Post.

Applying a Remedy.
"Tommy doesn't feel like going to school this morning," said Mrs. Tucker. "He says he has a pain in his stomach. He's lying on the lounge in the sitting-room, all humped up out of shape."

"I think," said Mr. Tucker, reaching behind the mirror for a small rawhide, "I can lick him into shape."—Chicago Tribune.

Her Literary Deftness.
She could talk about the classics in a very knowing way. She was fine in mathematics and in art made some display. She was cultured and accomplished both in poetry and song. But whenever she read a cook book—well, she somehow got it wrong.—Washington Star.

HOW HE WON HER.

"But, Mr. Simmons, you are so awfully ugly."
"Yes, but opposites should marry."—Chicago Chronicle.

Good Advice.
Here is a well-known proverb. Revised to suit, the masses—
If you in a stone house dwell, Refrain from throwing glasses.
—Chicago Daily News.

Chance for Athletes.
Farmer—Yes, I want a man. Are you a good jumper?
Applicant—Jumper? Well, yes.
"You could jump a barbed-wire fence without much trouble, I s'pose?"
"Um—I s'pose so."
"Well, that's all right, then; you'll do. You see, some of our bulls is a little wild."—N. Y. Weekly.

Sure Way to Stop It.
"I wish they wouldn't all laugh at me whenever I get up to make a few remarks," said the legislator.
"My dear fellow," returned the wise man, "there is a sure way to stop that."
"How?"
"Try to be humorous."—Chicago Post.

Making Her Happy.
Sunday School Teacher—Have you made anyone happy this week?
Little Girl—Yes'm. Mrs. Highupp has a baby, and it's a awful squally, red-faced little brat; but, when I met Mrs. Highupp yesterday, I told her she had the sweetest, prettiest baby I ever saw.—N. Y. Herald.

Why He Didn't Marry Her.
"Oh, no; I'm not a misogynist," said the confirmed bachelor, "but there has been one reason that has always prevented my marrying even the most charming of women."
"What is that?"
"She wouldn't have me."—Town Topics.

A Sad Case.
She—I suppose, senator, you find the glare of publicity very annoying sometimes?
He—Yes, I frequently become so weary of it that I am almost tempted to run for the vice presidency.—Chicago Times-Herald.

The Simon-Pure Article.
Percy—Have you ever loved before?
Edith—No, Percy! I have often admired men—for their strength, courage, beauty, intelligence, or something like that; but with you, Percy, it is all love—nothing else!—Puck.

May Have Got Something.
"A burglar got into our house last night."
"Did he take anything?"
"The children are all sick, and we hope he got the measles."—Chicago Record.

Not the Same.
"I have a unique thing in the book line," said the poet.
"So I have heard," returned the cynic. "The complete first edition of your own book, is it not?"—Harlem Life.

Traced the Resemblance.
"You remind me of my first husband," she said.
"I have felt recently," he replied, "that I was gradually becoming a very meek man."—Chicago Post.

Embarrassing.
Lobbyist—What did you mean by refusing to vote on this measure?
Congressman—I had forgotten in which way you paid me to vote.—N. Y. Journal.

Her Objection.
Snifkins—Why did the young lady object to being called a poem?
Bifkins—Because poems are measured by feet!—Judy.

Averting a Challenge.
The Widower—Life, my young friend, is a duel between love and me. The Pert Young Thing—But don't expect me to be your second.—Puck.

A NIGHT OF TERROR.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Me., when the doctors said she could not live till morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln who attended her that fearful night. "All thought she must soon die from pneumonia, but she begged for Dr. King's New Discovery, saying it had more than once saved her life, and had cured her of Consumption. After three small doses she slept easily all night, and its further use completely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung Diseases. Only 50c and $1. Years ago an ulcer involving the cornea, encroached upon the pupil, leaving an unsightly white scar. The patient suffered a three days' ordeal during the process of tattooing.

Prairie dog meat is now said to be "white, tender and delicate," with a "rich, toothsome flavor" superior to that of spring chicken or quail. There has always been a theory that the prairie dog must have been created for some useful purpose, but the information as to its food qualities comes late.

In the Illinois house of correction the women prisoners are to be set to work at flower culture for the market in three large greenhouses recently added to the institution. An expert horticulturist will direct the training. The prisoners seem pleased with the new departure.

Women as train porters are an innovation that is fast becoming popular. The woman who wishes her shoes laced, her dress fastened, etc., is wondering how she managed to travel before without such aid.

An eastern Oregon exchange reports that a cattleman of that section lately sold a car load of steers right off the range that averaged $48 per head. None of these cattle had been fed a pound of hay or grain.

DON'T forget the horse show at Hustonville tomorrow, Saturday afternoon. The prospects are that every horse in Central Kentucky will be there and it is a splendid place to show them.
REMEMBER the grand free balloon ascension, thrilling parachute jump and a high tower dive that is given free to all from the show grounds in connection with Sparks' New Railroad Shows at Stanford, April 16.
SETTLED IN FULL.—The Royal Insurance Co., through their adjuster, Mr. James W. Powell, of Louisville, settled my loss on residence and furniture and paid full amount of my policy, $1,500, four days after the fire. J. W. Bastin, Pittsburg.
NOW'S YOUR CHANCE.—Mr. John H. Sparks, manager Sparks' show, will give a handsome bedroom suite to any couple that will take a trip in his big balloon Monday and get married. Now is your chance for a big novel wedding and a handsome present.
OUR Casey county friends want to know that John Bowman, who works for Mr. Winston Bowman and who is a colored man, contributed 25 cents to the Goebel monument fund, saying as he did so that he was sorry his finances would not permit his donating more liberally.
ENTERPRISE.—The Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL, one of the brightest papers in the State, will be increased in size to a seven column folio and will be printed on a fine new press. The change is rendered necessary by a rapid increase in advertising patronage.—Louisville Times.
QUIT IN TIME.—James House, who was in from the Gilberts Creek section yesterday conducting the boys whose dogs killed Mr. Foster's sheep, was at the same time congratulating himself for having quit fox hunting last week, when he sold his four hounds to a Knoxville man for $100.
SOLD OUT.—J. W. Perrin, the coal and feed man near the depot, who made $800 clear during his experience in that line, has sold out lock, stock and barrel to J. B. Higgins, who handled coal for years here, and his son-in-law, R. E. Lee Sims, and those gentlemen took possession yesterday morning. Mr. Perrin is undecided as to his future, but thinks he will travel.
FEW DEATHS.—Never was there a duller time for undertakers here and but for their side lines they would have to "shut up shop." In going over his books, Undertaker J. C. McClary finds that there have only been six white people buried in Buffalo Cemetery since July 1. Of course more people have died and their bodies buried elsewhere, but not near enough have crossed the dark river to make the undertaking business in Stanford remunerative.
AN officer of the Commercial Bank at Liberty told us the other day that the bank's deposit now reached close to $70,000 and that they were loaning about $60,000. You can't buy a share of its stock for less than $135 and nobody wants to sell at that. By the way, its new fixtures have arrived and been placed in position and with them and the handsome brick building with plate glass fronts, Cashier Prewitt and Assistant Cashier Young are as fine as a fiddle, while on the outside President Combest and the board of directors are making every edge out for the popular institution. The INTERIOR JOURNAL, which did the bank's first work and continues to do it, looks at its growth with a pardonable pride.

BIG BASS.—Mrs. James B. Owens writes from Cumberland Falls that her husband caught a 64-pound bass the other day and that fishing is fine. A dozen Louisville Isaac Waltons are there.
THAT PRESS.—We have received several inquiries about the 32x47 Cottrell news and job press, which we offer for sale to make room for a 40x60 two revolution press. The Cottrell prints a sheet double the size of the INTERIOR JOURNAL in its usual six-column folio form and is as good as new. Our circulation is so large and our advertising so great that we are forced to enlarge the paper and get a press that goes faster. The one we offer for sale has a speed of 1,500 an hour. The one that is coming can turn out 2,500 to 3,000 full 7-column quartos in the same time.
TERRIFIC SLAUGHTER.—Dogs raided the sheep fold of John B. Foster Wednesday night and killed and wounded 134. Mr. Foster says that he heard the dogs all night, but supposing fox hunters were out, paid no attention to them. When he went out next morning, he saw eight dogs eating away, three of which he succeeded in killing. Mr. Foster's loss is very heavy for which he ought to be fully reimbursed by the owners of the destructive and worthless canines. The dogs killed turned out to be one each belonging to Col. Hill, Frank Dawson and Chris E. Gentry. Judge Dawson, Frank Dawson and C. E. Gentry started fox hunting that night, taking their own dogs and those of the other gentlemen named. They ran off to the knobs and the hunters came home. Then the dogs put in the night at Mr. Foster's. All of them will be killed, if Mr. Foster says so. Messrs. E. P. Woods and J. H. McAllister, who have figured on the loss, put it at $440.
THE Attorney General, R. J. Breckinridge, spent several days here this week in a law case. "Don't call me general," said he to our reporter. "I do not believe in peace won military titles. I do not object to being called colonel for I held that rank in the Confederate army, after promotion from captain, but I had almost as lief for a man to call me 'Attorney' as 'General.'" Whoever thought of calling the more distinguished attorney generals by the high sounding military title? It only began a few years ago and I want it stopped with me." Asked about the outcome of the contests before the supreme court, he said that there was no doubt in his mind that that court would decide that there was no Federal question involved, and let Kentucky manage her own affairs. Judge Breckinridge is in bad health himself and with an invalid wife and the cares and vexations incident to his recent life, he is looking very badly, but his friends hope that everything will soon go his way and that spring will bring him out like the roses.
A VERY OLD CASE.—A special term of the circuit court was held Wednesday to hear the case of Carter Carneal, etc., vs Thomas McRoberts, administrator, with the will annexed of Joseph Stewart. Mr. McRoberts qualified as administrator of the estate about 56 years ago. It consisted of 700 acres of land in Pendleton county, which he offered for sale shortly afterwards, but having no bid greater than $1 an acre, did not sell it. He continued to pay taxes on it till 1872, out of his own pocket, when some of the lands were sold. In 1889, Mr. McRoberts made a settlement with County Judge Varnon, reporting about $1,000, which was insufficient to repay him for advances, interest and costs. The matter remained in this condition till 1893, when the heirs brought suit against Mr. McRoberts, claiming $20,000 from him. On the trial of the case a judgment for $14,225 was given against Mr. McRoberts, subject to credits, which reduced the amount to less than $9,000. The court of appeals affirmed the decision, but on an appeal for a rehearing granted it with the direction that the merits of the question be heard if he should be held for the defalcation of W. J. Perrin, his agent, for the sale of some of the land, the amount defaulted with interest, amounting to $8,086.72. This question was argued and submitted yesterday, Judge Saufley now having it under consideration. In a re-statement of the accounts Commissioner R. C. Warren found that the original judgment should have been for $13,313. The plaintiffs were represented by Col. W. G. Welch and Judge R. J. Breckinridge, the defendant by Messrs. R. P. Jacobs, C. R. McDowell and Hill & McRoberts.

ON hearing his seven-year old talk about "Mr. Milk Man," the little one was asked by its father if it did not know the milk man's name. "Why, Mr. Milk Man, of course," was the innocent reply.
HENRY CLAY was born in the slashes of Hanover county, Va., April 12, 1777. The writer has been to the old mill many a time, that the commoner used to ride a corn sack to when a barefooted boy.
THE ladies of the Presbyterian church will have an Easter cake sale at the exchange Saturday at 2 P. M. There will be an attractive display of cakes, candies and Easter eggs. All are invited to call. Proceeds for church carpet.
27.—Miss Lillie Beazley, the well-known milliner, sold 27 hats the first day of her opening and nearly as many the second. There are three other millinery establishments in town, all of which have their openings and big days, so it will be readily seen that no little of Stanford's cash goes for head-gear for the dear creatures.
MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.
County Clerk Cooper fears he is being boycotted. He hasn't issued a marriage license for 17 long days.
Miss Catherine Goggin's expression of her reasons for remaining single that "no one ever asked her to marry," has raised a world of sympathy among the men of not only Illinois but other States.
Rev. John Lapsley McKee, D. D., and his estimable wife Wednesday celebrated the golden anniversary of their marriage, which took place April 11, 1850, in Boyle county. The event was made the occasion of a reception to which the relatives and hundreds of friends of the venerable couple were invited. Many persons were present from a distance, some coming from as far away as Chicago, Kansas City and other points. All of the surviving children were there. They are: Mrs. James B. Welsh, of Kansas City; Miss Leila McKee, president of the Western College for Ladies, at Oxford, O.; Rev. Samuel L. McKee, of West Salem, Wis.; Rev. J. Lapsley McKee, of New Albany, Ind., and Mr. Robert McKee, of Danville. Rev. McKee is 73 and his wife a few years his junior.
